1. Aims

The LAMP Learning Preventing Radicalisation Policy is part of a suite of policies on safeguarding demonstrating our commitment to keeping children and young people safe.

This policy addresses the statutory duty under section 26 of the Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015. That schools should have; "due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism."

This duty covers all types of extremism; political, religious or ideological. This duty is known as the Prevent duty.

2. Roles and responsibilities

It is LAMP's role, through its safeguarding duty, to prevent students from the risk of radicalisation and to promote the spiritual, moral, social and cultural development of our students.

In order to fulfil this responsibility LAMP will;

- Promote fundamental British values in our curriculum

- Make sure that LAMP is a safe space for students to discuss sensitive topics, including terrorism and extremism

- Engage with our referring local authority's risk assessment to determine any potential risk to individuals of being drawn into terrorism in the local area

- Have procedures in place to protect students from harmful online content and through the setting up of filtering systems.

- Ensure that staff receive training to help them identify students at risk, challenge extremist ideas and know how to act if they have a concern

- Ensure that robust safeguarding procedures are in place to identify children at risk

  LAMP has a general understanding of the risks affecting children, young people and vulnerable adults.

- LAMP has a general understanding of the national threat picture.

  LAMP has a specific understanding of local risks and the potential impact on our setting and learners.

Directors will

- have overall responsibility for the Prevention of radicalisation at LAMP
- ensure that all staff undergo Prevent training

DSL will;

- to understand the Prevent duty
- undergo Prevent training
- act as LAMP's Prevent lead
- understand the channel programme and know when it is appropriate to refer students to it
- be able to identify students that may be vulnerable to extremism
- to protect students from the risk of radicalisation

staff will

- understand the Prevent duty
- undergo Prevent training
- be able to identify students that may be vulnerable to extremism
- protect students from the risk of radicalisation
- understand the Channel programme
- embed British Values, equality, diversity and inclusion, well being and community cohesion through their subject
- notify the DSL of any students where there is a concern.

All staff are required to complete Prevent training as part of their induction at LAMP.

3. Curriculum

Through LAMP's PfA programme and as part of our British Values provision, students will be taught about online safety and how to keep themselves safe online, both at LAMP and in their outside lives. British Values, equality, diversity and inclusion, well being and community cohesion will be taught through all the subjects taught at LAMP.

4. IT systems

Through online filtering and monitoring systems, LAMP will ensure that when students access the internet, they are safe from terrorist and extremist material.
